A Wish for Your Well?

Your well is more than likely the largest household appliance you own, and it's often out of sight, out of mind, until there's a problem that affects your water supply for drinking, cooking, cleaning and many other household activities.

As your local well experts, we encourage you to take advantage of our affordable Well-ness Check-Up to make sure your well is in good working order, especially if you've noticed that your water pressure or volume is too low, or if it's been five years or more since you've had a well inspection.

Even if you your well wasn't originally drilled by Gordon and Sons, give us a call, we'll make sure your water—and your life—keep flowing!

Prevent Potential Problems and High Electric Bills with Routine Well Maintenance

Consider having one of Gordon & Sons Certified Well Specialists check your well for the following:

- ✓ Air pressure in your well tank.
Improper air pressure may cause premature pump failure. Low pressure may indicate that you have a leak.
- ✓ Rust on your tank, which may lead to leaks.
- ✓ Any visible leaks.
- ✓ The condition of the well cap.
- ✓ The well's structure and how it complies with current safety codes.
- ✓ Corrosion on the pressure switch.
- ✓ Check the flow rate of the pump and well.
- ✓ Electrical connections—are they secure and in good shape?

Protect Your Water Supply— Now and for Generations to Come

Keep the water flowing for your family now, and in the future with these simple tips:

1 Check Your Well and Equipment Periodically

Proper maintenance of your well can help prevent major repairs and inconvenience later. The expert well technicians at Gordon & Sons recommend having a well-ness check-up at least once every five years.

2 Make Sure Your Well Equipment is up to Current Safety Standards

Have Gordon & Sons conduct a Well-ness Check-Up and make recommendations about the conditions of your well equipment.

3 Safeguard All Wells on Your Property

If you have additional non-working wells on your property or adjacent land, make sure you properly abandon them to prevent accidents or injury and the possible contamination of active wells.
